

TO KEEP THE BOY AT HOME.

Your boy will never wander far,
Nor tempt he to roam,
If all the joys he finds abroad
Are given him at home.
If happy faces greet him there,
And voices sweet and kind,
What boy, within a stranger's door,
Will seek these things to find.
Furnish him music, books and games,
Don't talk about the cost!
It will cost far more to bring him back
When once to you he's lost.
Praise and appreciate his work,
And share with him the gain;
The pride he'll take in doing well,
Will pay you for your pains.
With plenty of good and wholesome food
And decent clothes to wear,
Some sports to make his work seem light,
No boy will ever care.
For pleasures of a sinner's sort
That dazzle those who roam;
But when for happiness he looks
Turn to the dear old home.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, overworked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections, whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery, impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American forest plants. These are the best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted free, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.
It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Keep Your Nerve

It is nerve energy that runs the organs of your body. The storage battery is the nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord, and from this battery nerve force is sent out through the system of nerves. To keep the body healthy you must have plenty of nerve force; if you have not, the organs work imperfectly, the circulation is sluggish, digestion bad, appetite poor, kidneys inactive, and aches, pains and misery are the penalty.

You can keep the system strong with Dr. Miles' Nerve. It assists in generating nerve energy; it strengthens the nerves and makes the whole system strong and vigorous.

"I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Miles' Nerve to those suffering from nervous prostration, insomnia and melancholy. After several months' suffering from above diseases I tried this medicine and found immediate relief. It soothes and strengthens the nerves, chases away the gloomy and depressing thoughts and gives the sufferer renewed strength and hope. It is a superb nerve restorer."

Owensboro Heating Up.

A lively election will be held in Owensboro on April 20 to determine whether the city is to be a "dry" or a "wet" town, and it has caused more interest than any election held there in years. The campaign on both sides is perhaps the most vigorous of its kind ever waged in the State. There are 40 saloons and wholesale liquor houses in Owensboro and the liquor men have been organizing for weeks. The temperance people are holding nightly meetings and are bringing into the city some of the most noted temperance orators in the United States. There is a big Negro vote in Owensboro, and colored advocates of temperance have been engaged, with the view of lining them up for prohibition. The temperance question is playing an important part in the politics of numerous counties throughout the State in the selection of candidates for the Legislature.

The Spider Knew.

"It pays to advertise," said Mark Twain, at an advertisement writers' banquet.

"When I was editing the Virginia City Enterprise, writing copy one day and minding the next, I tried to force this truth home in many ways.

"A superstitious subscriber once wrote and said he had found a spider in his paper. Was this good or bad luck? I replied to him in our Answers to Correspondents' column as follows:
"Old Subscriber—The finding of a spider in your copy of the Enterprise was neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our pages to find out what merchant was not advertising so that it could spin its web across his door, and lead a free and undisturbed existence forever after."

RACE PROBLEM

TO BE DEALT WITH IN SOUTH.

Five Wealthy Men Back of Movement Looking to Solution of Great Question.

Two great movements looking to the solution of the race problem in the South, especially in Georgia, have been launched and have gained the support of some of the most prominent men in the country, according to a statement made by a conference of the Atlanta Evangelical Ministers' Association Monday. One of the movements is being urged by Dr. John E. White, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who reported to the conference that it is gaining great headway.

"Five of the wealthiest men in the South," Dr. White stated, "have put all they have back of this movement. We contemplate the organization of all the moral forces in the South in one great body and the appointment of a commission, composed of the best and most learned men of the South, to handle the problem and deal with the situation affecting the relationship of the races."

The other movement is being fostered by Gov. W. J. Northen, of Georgia, who has been urging, in speeches all over the State, the establishment of better relations between the races. The movement contemplates the selection of a State commission composed of some of the best lawyers of the State whose duty it shall be to have the laws of the State so revised as to do away with the present objections to the persons charged with criminal assault, and to provide for the punishment of the leaders and members of the mobs.

Concluding his speech before the ministers' conference, Gov. Northen says the keynote of the whole movement "is to get the good white people and the good negroes together, and, once united, they will look after the bad people of both races."

Was the Boy Cured?

An elderly gentleman was riding on a street car the other day. A boy began to laugh, and laughed so he couldn't stop. The old gentleman told his mother that the boy needed a spanking, and she replied that she didn't believe in spanking on an empty stomach; whereupon the man said: "Neither do I; turn him over."

The Latest.

In a letter addressed to C. H. Smith, president of the Illinois Manufacturing Association, declining to address that body on the present railroad and financial situation, President Roosevelt makes clear the fact that he believes that his views on the subject have been sufficiently stated, and also that it is unnecessary for him to add anything to them at this time. It is said on authority that the President will renew his request of Congress at its next session for power to deal with the question of overcapitalization of railroads. In connection with the fact that the President has made no reference in his speeches or messages to the question of the physical valuation of railroads, it is said that his position is that the roads themselves will work out this problem as an item of book-keeping.

THREE KILLED

In a Desperate Fight at an Italian Labor Camp Near Ashland.

Three are dead and one is dying, the latter a woman, as the result of a desperate battle with pistols and knives at an Italian labor camp on the Guyan river, eighteen miles from Ashland, April 2. The affair was the bloodiest event that has occurred in years along that stream on the banks of which was fought one of the most desperate engagements of the Civil War.

A messenger sent for medical aid stated that the fight was caused by the introduction of a job lot of liquor in the camp Sunday by a number of the laborers who went to Huntington Sunday night to enjoy a holiday. When they returned they carried about ten gallons of whisky, which was freely distributed among the men, and drinking was kept up until a late hour. An altercation arose between Tony Sodario and Sebastino Puchelli, in which the latter shoved a twelve-inch knife through the abdomen of the former. Sodario's friends immediately attempted to lynch Puchelli and the latter's friends came to his rescue with pistols, knives, clubs and whisky bottles. The messenger stated that one hundred shots were fired, one of them piercing the breast of Bettie Sodario, a cousin of the man killed by Puchelli. The woman will die.

Frank Pizelli, who formerly kept a fruit store at Parkersburg, W. Va., but who had been running a sort of commissary near the camp, was also shot through the side and the wound is deemed mortal. Another Italian, whose name could not be learned, had the whole top of his head shot off by a charge of buckshot. Only two Italians have been arrested and locked up. The others have been subpoenaed.

Can't Stand Kerosene.

"I never knew until this winter," said the superintendent of a dog and cat hospital, "how thoroughly most animals detest the smell of kerosene. Several times the steam heating apparatus in this place went on a strike and we tried to raise the temperature by means of an oil stove. The smell of the oil produced a regular mutiny among the animals. Cats are particularly sensitive to the odor of kerosene. Next door to my house is a stationery store which has been heated all winter long with an oil stove. In the beginning of the season the proprietor owned a fine cat that seemed well satisfied with his comfortable quarters. No sooner, however, was that stove lighted than the cat deserted the stationer and sought a home for the winter in a steam heated flat farther down the street. He comes back once in a while on a visit, but the smell of the oil prevents his becoming a regular inhabitant of that store."—New York Sun.

At a meeting in New York of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, it was announced that Mrs. Russell Sage had added $100,000 to her recent donation of $250,000 for the building of a home for the committee. When Mrs. Sage examined the plans prepared she decided that an additional gift would be required.

Charles H. Stewart, of Lexington, charged with shooting his niece, Miss Susan Nelson, and Thomas Newbold last Christmas eve, pleaded guilty and was given a sentence of two years in the penitentiary for the first-named offense and one year for the second.

Why is it that the people with nothing to do but sit around and visit are such dreadful bores?

FOUND HE COULD MAKE TIME

One Call for Physician that Met With Quick Response.

Life is such a constant rush to a well-known physician that to secure a little recreation he has recourse to ruses. A visitor called one night, and began a speech to the servant:

"I want the doctor to come over as quickly as he can."
"He can't do it!" the servant answered. "He left orders that he was so busy that unless it was absolutely a matter of life and death he couldn't go out at all this evening."

"But," said the caller, "it isn't illness at all."
"What then?"
"We want him to come over and take a hand in a game of whist."
"Oh, that's different."
The servant disappeared, and reappeared a moment later.
"The doctor says he'll be over in ten minutes, sir," he announced.

Egg Inspectors Strike.

It has been announced by the delegate of the Egg Inspectors' Union that the union had ordered a strike against F. M. Shaffer & Co., of 172 Chabers street, for union conditions. The firm, he said, was employing strike-breakers. It appears that the egg-inspecting season has only started, but will be in full swing in a week or two. A strike, when the season is at its height, he said, would be more effective.

The egg inspectors test the eggs in dark rooms by holding each egg before a lighted gas jet or electric light. He throws them into baskets as they are tested, each basket indicating the quality of the eggs it contains. The first grade is marked "Warranted strictly fresh eggs;" the second, "Warranted fresh eggs;" the third, "Fresh eggs;" and the fourth, "Eggs."

At one time the egg inspectors were known as candlers. This was because they held the eggs before lighted candles in the days before the age of gas.—New York Times.

The Story of Rexall

REX means the combination makes REXALL "king of all."

We have proven time and time again that Rexall Remedies are kings above all others.

For more than two years an expert traveled all over the world in search of extraordinary remedies. When he heard of a wonderful cure of any nature he did not rest until he personally could see the effect of the prescription used. Where he found the remedy perfect he purchased the prescription, but it was never used as a Rexall remedy until the properties had been thoroughly analyzed by the chemists and physicians of the United Drug Company.
